A Letter To The Citizens of Frederic

As you know, we have had two tornado alerts in the past two weeks, and the firemen have voted to put in effect a warning system in Frederic.

One long blast on the fire siren means a tornado alert, meaning a tornado has been sighted and to be alert. When a tornado warning is received, the siren will be blown at 30-second intervals, also the siren on fire apparatus will be blown through town warning people to take shelter. If persons have no shelter or basement, the Town Hall is about the safest place in town, also the school basement. I hope and pray this system will never have to be used, but it pays to be prepared. Hoping everyone understands the functioning of this system and will abide by it.

Arthur Mayer, Chief, Frederic Fire Dept.

Secretary Hare Says Voting Registrations Down

Michigan's confused election picture for the coming Fall had relatively nothing to do with a sizeable dip in the number of voter registrations which were at their lowest ebb in six years in early April.

The main reason for lower figures throughout the state according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, chief elections official, was the change from four to a two-year registration in which persons who did not vote for longer than two years were dropped from the registration lists.

Hare said his elections division totaled 3,357,730 registered voters in the state as of April 6, when local county clerks reported their totals. This was considerably under the total of 3,770,798 counted on April 9 of 1962 and under figures compiled in 1960 and 1958, more than 100,000 voters for each year.

Only one county in the entire state — Ogemaw — had improved its registration figures over the past two years, Hare reported. All the other counties were down from the number of registered voters in the smaller counties to nearly 200,000 registrants in Wayne County. Hare said, "Calhoun county had the biggest percentage drop — 16 percent."

Hare said that he expected registrations "to pick up" before the deadline of August 3 for registering for the September 1 primary. Voters have until October 5 to get registered for the November 3 general election.

Consumers To Conduct Survey

Representatives of Consumers Power Company will call at the homes of a sample group of Cadillac District customers during the next few weeks in a survey to obtain information regarding the use of household appliances along the company's lines. District Manager M. D. Porter said the information, together with comparative data obtained in earlier surveys, will be helpful in estimating the future service requirements of Consumers customers.

The survey here, Mr. Porter said, is part of a statewide activity in which information will be asked from only 21,000 of the more than 1,500,000 customers served by the company. The 21,000 were selected by electronic computer as representative of the entire customer group.

"The purpose is not to obtain information about any particular customer but to gather data indicating the saturation of various appliances among all our customers," Mr. Porter said. "There will be no sales effort whatever in connection with this survey."

A group of Michigan college and university students trained for the purpose are making the survey under the direction of company supervisors. Each interviewer carries a Consumers Identification card.

Plan Rabies Clinic For Dogs

There will be a dog clinic held on Thursday, July 2nd from 4 p. m. to 7 p. m. in the Grayling Fire Hall. Rabies shots will be administered by an authorized veterinarian for $2.00 per dog. Rabies is an acute infectious disease of mammals characterized by irritation of the central nervous system followed by paralysis and finally death.

RABIES IN MAN

Rabies is communicated to man by the saliva of rabid dogs. One of the characteristics of a rabid dog is that they wander aimlessly and attack everything they see, in silence. The incubation period varies from 10 days to two years with the average being six weeks to three months. The rabies virus travels through the peripheral nerves to the spinal column and on to the brain. The patient becomes restless, inarticulate, sleepless, feverish and excitable. The patient has trouble breathing, is extremely thirsty but can not swallow, only choke. The patient suffers spasms of excruciating pain. After two or three days of this, he succumbs to death either in paroxysm of choking or exhaustion. Only the symptoms can be treated.

GRAYLING SEWER PROJECT UNDERWAY

The photo above depicts the first work on a storm and sanitary sewer project of the City of Grayling which is partly financed under the Accelerated Public Works program of the Federal government.

The Pierce Construction Company of Southfield is doing the work and has moved in two large Bay City shovels. The project was started on Norway street where some difficulty was experienced at the corner of Ottawa in front of the Welch Motor Sales due to the depth of the trench. Both a sanitary and a 24 inch storm sewer are being laid up Norway street.

This sewer line will eliminate the need for a lift station at the junction of Lake and McClellan streets which in the past has been a source of trouble for the city for many years.

Near the end of last week, work also started on another run of sewer which will be up Peninsular avenue from Ingham street to Ottawa. The total bid price for the entire project is $69,358.50.

McCREADY WINS BID

Work To Start Monday To Remodel Old Light Plant To New City Hall

At a special meeting of the City Council of the City of Grayling held in the Council Rooms of the City office building on Ottawa street last Monday evening, the low bid to remodel the former Grayling Municipal Light and Power Plant building into a new and modern City Hall for Grayling was accepted from McCready and Son of Gaylord.

On site labor is to get underway on Monday, June 29 and the contractor is obligated for completion within 365 days at the most. The project is a joint venture of the City of Grayling and the Federal Government under the Accelerated Public Works program. Each unit of government will share in the cost.

The modernization project calls for a city office, office space for the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce, a City Police Office, space for the parking of the City Fire Department trucks and related equipment, all on the ground floor. On the 2nd floor will be a council meeting room and a room for firemen meetings.

The site of the new City Building is an outstanding one as it is located on the banks of the world famous AuSable River and also on I-75, expressway business loop. It will afford easy access for people in their transactions with the city and will also serve almost as a billboard to people traveling through stating that Grayling is a modern city in the move.

The building will join in a complex with the modern Grayling American Legion Post building and the soon to be erected Crawford County Library (both across I-75) to draw downtown Grayling and the southeast shopping center more closely together.

The Ultimate Tragedy . . .

Writing in the Register, a publication issued by the Catholic Press Society, Inc., Frank Morris reaches the heart of the issue that was involved in the tragic strike of Belgian doctors against the Belgian government recently: "I write to remind those who care to listen that the medical profession is an ancient free one. It is nearly as ancient as priesthood, and, in fact, in some areas seems to melt in origin into that profession . . . For a doctor to allow anything extraneous to his own conscience and skill to dictate to him how to function as a doctor would be as immoral as for a writer to allow anything beyond his own conscientious beliefs to dictate to him what to put down as truth . . . I am not saying, mind you, that doctors or any others should be above laws for protection of the common good. I am saying that the professionals must be beyond the dictation of the government in the exercise of their profession . . . Those of other professions, trades, and skills may stand by unconcerned while this tragedy takes place. But they should take heed from the words of the poet and preacher John Donne. The bell that tolls the death of free medicine is also tolling the death of free religion, free justice, free press. All the excuses of the common good that apply to medicine apply in different degrees to these other professions . . . What diminishes the freedom of my doctor takes from me, too."

When any group becomes a tool of bureaucracy as the doctors are threatened with under state medicine, the end result can not be other than tragic.

Dangerous Special Privilege . . .

The issue raised by Senator Case of New Jersey in demanding that senators be questioned as to their business activities with persons under a congressional committee investigation has caused public wonderment.

It is difficult for the people to understand why a public official should be exempted from the same kind of questioning to which a private citizen is subjected in congressional committee hearings.

Senator Case is to be commended for his endeavor to put our public officials on the same footing as private citizens. Immunity from questioning for a public servant destroys confidence in our chosen representatives.

newspapers are concerned, the prophets of doom have been proven entirely wrong.

Editor & Publisher reports that total newspaper circulation as a per cent of adult population increased from 49.15 per cent in 1945 to 51.14 per cent in 1960. It adds, "Newspapers in the U. S. have been more than holding their own with the growth in adult population, and we expect will continue to grow as the baby boom develops into adult newspaper purchasers."

Moral: The newspaper meets a need and a want that nothing else can.

Dog Tired?

Warm weather and strenuous activity have a way of taking away pet and energy. Take the average shopper, for instance. If she goes wandering here and there, aimlessly searching for this and that, with no specific shopping plan in mind, she wears out her patience as well as plenty of shoe leather. The wise shopper not only plans her grocery buying expedition, but her other buying trips as well. She begins by first taking note of the fact that shopping the local community first not only saves time and energy, but often money as well.

You can shop locally by phone. You can locate a need item, determine the price, and often have it delivered free of charge. You can find many of the items you need by checking the advertisements in this newspaper. In any event, when you shop locally, you never have to waste time or wear out your patience. If you haven't shopped local stores lately, take our advice and do so. You'll be pleasantly pleased and you can be assured that service and satisfaction await you when you deal with the established local businessman.

"I REMEMBER" BY The Old Timer

From Mrs. Edna Wood, Earlville, Illinois: I remember the past so very distinctly. The fog house in Minnesota where I was born and where we lived for many years, the cold, cold winters and lots of snow. I remember walking to and from school, the old cold schoolhouse where we nearly froze our feet, the old pot bellied stove near the teacher's desk and the squirrels that came in through holes in the floor to eat the crumbs we children dropped. We wore long-legged underwear and home knit stockings. I also remember vividly wading through the snow to the two little houses way in back of the schoolhouse — one marked 'girls' the other marked 'boys' — and the newspapers in a wooden box nailed to the wall. There was no washing machine of any kind in those days — just a scrub board, a tub and a large copper boiler in which to boil the white clothes clean — and home made soap — and the same tubs used for the Saturday night bath in front of the stove that seemed to literally eat wood. I remember getting up in the morning when it was snowing outside and finding my bed covered with snow that had drifted through the shingles during the night. Electricity was unheard of at that time. Our light at night was from kerosene lamps and everybody went to bed early — arose early in the morning, too, to start the wood fire going and thaw the ice in the water pail and melt the milk and other foods that had frozen during the night. Yes — remember the GOOD OLD DAYS — or were they? (Send contributions to this column to The Old Timer Box 29, Franklin, Ky.)

From Mrs. Edna Wood, Earlville, Illinois: I remember the past so very distinctly. The fog house in Minnesota where I was born and where we lived for many years, the cold, cold winters and lots of snow. I remember walking to and from school, the old cold schoolhouse where we nearly froze our feet, the old pot bellied stove near the teacher's desk and the squirrels that came in through holes in the floor to eat the crumbs we children dropped. We wore long-legged underwear and home knit stockings. I also remember vividly wading through the snow to the two little houses way in back of the schoolhouse — one marked 'girls' the other marked 'boys' — and the newspapers in a wooden box nailed to the wall. There was no washing machine of any kind in those days — just a scrub board, a tub and a large copper boiler in which to boil the white clothes clean — and home made soap — and the same tubs used for the Saturday night bath in front of the stove that seemed to literally eat wood. I remember getting up in the morning when it was snowing outside and finding my bed covered with snow that had drifted through the shingles during the night. Electricity was unheard of at that time. Our light at night was from kerosene lamps and everybody went to bed early — arose early in the morning, too, to start the wood fire going and thaw the ice in the water pail and melt the milk and other foods that had frozen during the night. Yes — remember the GOOD OLD DAYS — or were they? (Send contributions to this column to The Old Timer Box 29, Franklin, Ky.)

Women Hold 34.9% Of Jobs In County

(Special to the Avalanche) NEW YORK — To a greater extent than ever before, Crawford County women are getting away from their homes and are taking jobs in offices, stores and factories. 18-25

With each passing year the number of women at work has grown larger, to the point where now about one out of every three persons in the labor force is a woman. Details on this feminine march into the labor force, as it affects the local area and other sections of the country, come from the Department of Commerce, from the Labor Department and from other sources. 18-25

The latest official count shows 34.9 percent of all jobs in Crawford County to be held by women. The proportion is greater than that reported for most parts of the United States, where the average is 32.7 percent. In the East

North Central, it is 31.4 percent. The wide participation of women in all fields of industrial activity is noted in every area of the nation. They are to be found in most technical and professional fields as well as in Congress, on assembly lines of factories, on farms, in stores, banks, schools and even the armed forces. 18-25

Approximately 712 Crawford County women are now employed, full-time or part-time outside the home, or are looking for such work, according to the latest Government estimate, updated to March, 1964. 18-25

Nationally, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports, there are 25,430,000 in the labor force at the present time, as against 22,409,760 in 1960. All but 6 percent of them are employed. 18-25

Locally, as well as elsewhere across the country, it is the married women who are responsible for most of the increase in the number of female workers. Their earnings have contributed greatly to the rise in family incomes in recent years. 18-25

The National Consumers Finance Association finds that wives working full-time produce about 40 percent of total family income and those working part-time, about 20 percent. 18-25

The overall earnings of married women is placed at more than $28 billion a year. This added income has enabled many families to live more expansively than they could have otherwise. 18-25

WARNER - LESLIE VOWS EXCHANGED

The marriage vows of Miss Kay Frances Warner and Mr. Donald T. Leslie were exchanged in a double-ring candlelight ceremony at the Michelson Memorial Methodist Church at seven o'clock on Saturday, June 20, 1964.

The wedding was performed by the Rev. R. C. Puffer, pastor emeritus, before two hundred fifty guests. Organist was Miss Linda Gohr, who accompanied Mrs. John Stark, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, who sang the "Wedding Prayer." Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Warner of Lake Odessa, and Donald the son of Donald T. Leslie of Bradenton, Florida, and Mrs. Harold Stark of Mio, Michigan. Pairs friends and a bouquet of white gladioli at the altar decorated the church.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon organza accented with seed pearls and sequins at the scooped neckline and skirt front, which flowed into a chapel train at the back. Her veil of pure silk English illusion was held by an exquisite forward rose fashioned of lace petals outlined in loops of seed pearls and aurora crystals, centered with two pearlized orange blossoms. Her flowers were a circle of eternal love made from white carnations, garnet roses and ivy.

Mrs. Donald O. Hardy of Pontiac, sorority sister and former college roommate, was maid of honor. Mrs. Carlyle Mead of Alpena and Mrs. David Marshall of Mio, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. All were identically gowned in heartbeet blue summer brocade sheaths with scoop necklines, elbow-length sleeves, and matching overskirts. They wore headpieces of summer roses with leaves and veils. Their flowers were pink carnations and garnet roses. Gary Leslie served his brother as best man. Ushers were Roger Hatfield, Lawrence Stephan, Keith Warner, of Lake Odessa, brother of the bride, and David Marshall of Mio, the groom's brother-in-law. Mrs. Warner chose a three-piece yellow linen suit with white accessories. The groom's mother wore an ice-blue sheath dress with lace overbodice. Both mothers wore yellow rose corsages.

A reception was held at the Grayling Bowhunters' Club following the ceremony. Mrs. Jerry Walker and Mrs. Roger Hatfield, cousins of the bride, served the wedding cake. Miss Karen Baumgartner of Lansing, a sorority sister of the bride, was in charge of the gift table.

St. Mary's Ladies Club

The June meeting was held Tuesday, the 16th, beginning with a potluck supper. Speaker was Thomas J. Blakeley of Grand Rapids, who spoke on services to the aging. This is a program which has been made possible through the Diocesan Development Fund, contributed annually in May by parishioners. Mrs. Bud Gould was named chairman to organize a local group.

An election of officers was held at the business meeting. Mrs. Irving McIsaac elected president. Mrs. Robert Hanson school guild director. Mrs. Leland Marshall altar guild. Mrs. Jim Duley and Mrs. Jim Bourrie social and fund raising. All officers are for two-year terms.

A report on the smorgasbord given June 14th stated it very successful.

The club is going to have a bazaar during the month of July each Sunday morning before and after mass, coincident with the Men's Club coffee hour, at the church.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of peau de sole styled with a lace trimmed bodice and neckline, with chapel train of organza appliqued with lace. A pillbox hat trimmed in lace secured her fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations, and blue corn flowers with sprays of stephanotis.

Miss Judy Stanton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a mattina blue floor-length gown with bell-shaped skirt. A pillbox hat to match held her veil. ## Man-Made Cover for Trout

More often than not, many of the Conservation Department's stream improvements go unnoticed by fishermen. And that's the way these projects are planned—to provide man-made changes which look like the work of nature's forces. The log and cover shown above is a good case in point. Without the aid of this hand-drawn sketch, the project's natural "finish" hides the work of men which has produced a place of escape for trout, and shored up an unstable stream bank. As you can see from this sketch, the log and cover has been anchored by driving several posts into the stream bottom. So-called "whaler" logs were spiked to these posts; freshly-cut logs and poles were then fastened to the whalers. After lodging a large log along the outer edge, Department workers sloped the structure up the bank. They added finishing touches by adding the entire structure. New impetus has been thrust behind this and a host of other stream projects by the Accelerated Public Works program which is being financed 50-50 by state and federal funds. Work has already begun which will turn out more than $180,000 worth of improvements during the next two years to create choice fishing spots and protect streams against soil erosion.

Running Local Cars, $2,289,000 Item

(Special to the Avalanche)

NEW YORK — For the many Crawford County families who are planning to spend their vacations this summer taking motor trips to various parts of the country, the question of cost looms large.

Hotel and Motel accommodations, food, gasoline and other items have gone up in certain areas.

Some guidance in figuring these travel costs is given by the American Automobile Association in its latest report on vacation expenditures.

On the basis of its findings, a Crawford County couple will need about $31 a day to travel comfortably. This will take care of the necessities but not the frills.

Thus, a two-week trip for two people will cost a minimum of $434.

Assumed is that their car averages 15 miles to the gallon and that they do 300 miles a day.

The AAA arrived at the $31 a day figure by allowing $11 for overnight lodging, $10.50 for food, including snacks, $7 for oil and gas and $2.50 for miscellaneous expenses and tips.

No allowance is made for tolls on turnpikes, for the cost of admission to places of interest or for amusements.

The AAA also provides an answer to the complicated question of what it costs to own and maintain a car. This question crops up, inevitably, when the car is being checked over in preparation for a trip. Most car owners have no definite idea of how much they are spending in this direction.

The finding is that the average car in the popular-price range, operated at 10,000 miles a year, costs $1,162 annually.

Applied to Crawford County and to the number of passenger cars in use, the annual cost of car ownership locally is approximately $2,289,000.

The $1,162 per car includes fixed charges — insurance, depreciation and license fees — that amount to $2.17 a day, whether the car is used or not. For 365 days, the total is $792. The largest part of it is depreciation, $621.

Then come the variable costs —

"Luckily, we are farthest from the sun during our summer and nearest to it during the winter, so that our seasons tend to be a little milder than those of the other hemisphere," Professor Losh says.

"Also, since the earth is moving a little slower in its orbit around the sun during our summer, this season is slightly longer than our winter. This is known as the inequality of the seasons," and is said to have been detected as early as the 6th century B. C."

gas, oil, tires and maintenance. They depend on the amount of driving done. The AAA places them at 3.7 cents per mile, or $370 for 10,000 miles.

The increase in the number of cars in use has been a boon to Crawford County's filling stations. Their receipts in the past fiscal year reached a healthy $1,631,000.

Campaign Issues Decided For Fall Struggle For Public Offices

BATTLELINES DRAWN
Fall campaign issues were clearly set in the final days of the 1964 Legislature.

The Massachusetts ballot, new Congressional districts and the legislative reapportionment plan approved by the State Supreme Court will provide the highlights for the biennial GOP-Democratic struggle for public offices.

Republicans, led by Gov. George Romney, saw the Massachusetts ballot as a means to, as Romney put it, "whittle away at excessive partisanship."

Democrats, on the other hand, viewed the new voting method as an unfair and unnecessary removal of one choice in the balloting process. The new ballot eliminates the straight-ticket lever on voting machines and box on the paper tally.

Changes in the Congressional and legislative districts find the parties generally at opposite poles. There are exceptions.

In districts where incumbent is pitted against incumbent, neither party is satisfied. This is particularly true in the legislative plan approved by the Supreme Court and ordered put into use.

New challenges in the courts are anticipated on both reapportionment plans, but there has been no definite indication whether these will be made in the form of attempts to stop use of the alignments in the 1964 election.

Overall issue of the campaign is most likely to boil down to the question of accomplishments by the Legislature this year.

Republicans say they logically faced and solved more problems this year than in any period in history. These included implementation of the new Constitution, the new Congressional apportionment and such matters as minimum wages and aid to dependent children of the unemployed.

Democrats contend much of the action taken this year was merely a warmed-over version of what should have been accomplished previously.

The minimum wage, ADC-U and Congressional apportionment plans all fall into this disputed category over what was real accomplishment and what was last year's business renewed or corrected.

NEW SPORT

Sportsmen will have a new field for game this fall by virtue of legislative approval of conservation experts' advice. Approval of a special limited elk hunting season for the state will be implemented by a select number of license issues by the Conservation Department. Michigan's elk herd is largely concentrated in the Pigeon River game area. Preservation of the herd has been a serious effort for years.

Population of the herd has been increasing at a faster rate than biologists anticipated, providing an excess of elk over the number desired to maintain a supply of the animals in the state.

Thus, Conservation Department biologists suggested Michigan hunters be allowed to take a small percentage of the herd. The hunting number will probably be held down to the very serious by the $25 license fee imposed by law and the powers of limitation given the Department over license issue numbers.

VACATION DANGERS

Hazards of summer activities loom large as Michigan residents start vacation time, the season for long-distance traveling, water recreation and camping trips.

Motoring has become a hazard the year-round, and water accidents are common on ice as well as sun-sparkling lakes, but one of the dangers of camping often goes unheeded until it is too late. This is primarily a summer problem.

Often a dry season, summer brings a marked increase in the number of fires both at home and outdoors.

State Police records show fires hit an all-time high in Michigan last year, claiming 273 lives and causing an estimated $59 million in property damage.

A total of 86,845 fires of all types caused the highest damage figure in 10 years, said State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Teaching caution with fire is fundamental where children are concerned but all too often it is adults who are careless. The deaths from fire last year included 188 adults and 85 minor children.

Careless smoking and accidents where clothing caught fire were primary among the 86,845 blazes recorded in 1963. Many of these were at home barbecues and camp sites, cases where the fun of family activity led to carelessness.

Seek Those Interested In Counseling Field

Ted Prichard, Sr., manager of the West Branch Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, announced today that application forms and information booklets are available at his office for those interested in applying for training as counselors and youth advisors in the nation-wide crash program against youth unemployment.

Thomas Rounell, director of the M.E.S.C., has announced Michigan's 100 per cent cooperation with the Department of Labor in this phase of the war against poverty, in assisting unemployed youth with their job problems.

"He has underlined the urgent need to recruit qualified applicants to be trained as counselor aides and youth advisors, as soon as possible, in order that they may be tested and screened in the local office on Saturday, June 27," Mr. Prichard said.

"The youth selected will be given special instruction in counseling, advising and working with disadvantaged youth," he continued.

"To qualify as potential Counselor Aides, an applicant must be college graduate, preferably in counseling, psychology, social work, education, sociology or related fields.

"Applicants for Youth Advisor positions need not be college graduates, but must be over 21 and all applicants must possess the interest, special aptitudes, motivation and dedication necessary for this type of work," continued Mr. Prichard.

Applicants who are chosen in Michigan will be given 8 to 10 weeks of concentrated instruction in Wayne State University between July 13 and September 15.

R. L. D. S. Activities

The ordinance of baptism was witnessed the evening of Sunday, June 14, with many of the church members present when the service took place at the river's edge in front of Dan and Leta Babbitt's home. Their confirmation was held the same evening at the church. Elder Jay Doty was in charge of both services.

June 18 was the annual business meeting at the church. An election of officers was held with Jay Doty elected Branch president, Ruth Stephan secretary, Norval Stephan treasurer, Helen Jensen director of religious education, Flora Vandenberg music director, Tressa Stephens women's leader, Pat Fowler young adult leader, John Stephan youth supervisor, Jay Stephan and Letha Teng, auditors. their plants, have night classes on politics and have speakers from both parties explain the platforms and workings of the parties. By everyone contributing even a dollar, we get a wide participation in politics by a large majority instead of large donations by a few. This is a free country and no one should ever hesitate to state his politics. The two party system of government is fine and we all want to keep it that way.

Crawford County Dems are now in the process of the V.I.P. program (very important people). This is the registration drive and identification drive. Precinct workers will be calling on you with a form. All we ask is your name, if you are registered, party preference, and if you would like literature and to meet candidates, and if you will work for the party if you are a Democrat. The jobs you can do include serving on a candidate lunch committee when a candidate comes, typing cards for the telephone committee to remind people of meetings and various other activities. The precinct worker will not argue politics with you and all we are interested in is finding our Democrats and seeing that they are registered.

If you have some time and can help in one of the precincts or townships, please call Lora Gould and leave your name. We urge everyone to buy at least a minimum membership which is only $3.00 a year. Whether you are a dues paying member or not, please come to the next meeting July 1st at 8:00 p.m. at the Court House. It is never too late to do what you can, with what you have, where you live, to improve your government. See you July 1st.

Crawford County has 282 fewer registered now than in 1962. Let's correct this. Lora Gould
